NEW YEAR TO FIND CHINESE MERCHANTS IN FAIR CONDITION

Bankruptcies Few And Far Between In 1922

EXODUS BEGINS

Chinese Merchants Already Leaving For Homes

BY DAVID ARAKIE
(Financial Editor)

A week from now the Chinese will be celebrating their New Year. The exodus of merchants to their homes in the interior has already commenced, many of them having closed all their transactions and are repairing post haste to their kith and kin where they expect to celebrate the festive occasion in right royal style.

The Chinese New Year is the occasion for a great financial cleaning up, although there are also two minor ones, as well the Moon Cake or Mid-Autumn Festival which falls in the middle of the eighth moon in September, and the Dragon Festival on the fifth day of the fifth moon in June.

In ordinary years the approach of the Chinese New Year in Shanghai and other important trading centers in this country is felt by tremors of financial losses, but the year that will shortly come to an end has recorded few or no big bankruptcies among the Chinese merchants before the approach of such a Day of Reckoning. And this is hardly surprising for the year in itself was a very quiet one from the point of view of trade, and naturally when trade is sluggish and credit difficult to secure failures are not like the leaves at Valambrosa.

"GO NINGPO MORE FAR"

It is not likely that we shall see for many years as many bankruptcies as occured in 1921 when Chinese dealers took the opportunity of "going to Ningpo more far." The defaltations cost the foreign hongs not only great losses but also good experience, and since then they have not been disposed to take the same risks as before. Those palmy days when he could secure large credit from the foreign firms have gone for the Chinese merchant. Naturally under such restrictions the tendency to gamble at the importer's risk is pretty small and almost eliminated.

The 1921 bankruptcies are green in the memory of every trader and many firms are still suffering under this incubus. Chinese dealers bought goods from Manchester and other places to capacity limits and ignored the cardinal step of closing exchange at the time, so that when exchange tumbled down in the meantime most of the Chinese piecegoods dealers took a holiday in what is known in pidgeon parlance "have go Ningpo more far." Those who had indented goods for these Chinese lost 50 to 60 percent on their goods. The defaulting shook the credit of the Chinese merchants to its foundations, and since then the bulk of the European-Chinese trade has been conducted on very cautious lines.

The year which will wind up next week has been a very quiet one and the stocks have not been heavy. The supplementing of supplies of goods from abroad was slow, the merchants prefering to do a hand-to-mouth business, while there was still on their possession a portion of the very large stocks that had accumulated two years ago.

EFFECT ON EXCHANGE

In previous years the proximity of the Chinese New Year served as a big factor in exchange. The demand for silver used to be large and a shortage of silver often resulted, but since 1921 things eased off, and this year has exerted less influence on the exchange market.

Nevertheless the influence exerted this New Year time was quite appreciable, the rate today compared with after China New Year being about halfpenny higher. In 1921 the difference was much more, and it must be said that a difference of a halfpenny is quite a big one. Naturally enough, before the New Year money begins to get tight, but it is not as tight as a drum as in previous years owing to the fact that trade is quiet. Some very big transactions have been recorded, and everything has passed off very smoothly. Compared with last year the settlement features have been almost identical, and

RETURN VERDICT OF SUICIDE IN WOMAN'S DEATH

Funeral Of Mrs. Josephine Saes, Who Took Poison, Today

A verdict that Mrs. Josephine Saes, a Russian woman, came to her death by taking strychnine was returned by a coroner's jury before American Coroner Nelson E. Lurton yesterday afternoon.

The woman took the poison while calling on a friend, Mr. A. E. Barnes, and died a short time after she was taken to her own rooms at 26 Tracey Terrace, off Route de Soeurs in the French Concession. Mrs. Saes was married in Bangkok last August, but left her husband a few days after the wedding and came to Shanghai. His present whereabouts are unknown.

Dr. J. A. O'Driscoll, the first witness, testified that he had been called to 15 Quinsan Gardens about 8 o'clock in the evening to attend a woman who had taken poison. He found symptoms of strychnine, he said, and administered an antidote. At 10 o'clock, when he left her, the poison had gotten out of her system and she was normal, he said.

Dr. Panek also testified that he had been attending Mrs. Saes for lung trouble, which is believed to have been the reason for her act.

Mr. Barnes, 15 Quinsan Road, testified that she had telephoned him earlier in the evening and had said she was coming to see him. He was eating when she arrived, he said, and asked her to eat, but she refused. Then suddenly she drank something. He asked her what it was, and she replied "poison."

He immediately sent for Dr. O'Driscoll, he said, and after she had recovered took her to her home in a motor car. He planned to stay with her until the arrival of a nurse but about 1 o'clock she had a convulsion and screamed. A Russian doctor living nearby was called but before he arrived she was dead.

The jury was composed of Mr. G. C. Maxwell, Capt. H. M. Gallop, Mr. L. C. Solomon, Mr. J. C. Upson, Mr. H. H. Hiscox, and Mr. B. H. Lazarus.

Funeral services for Mrs. Saes will be held at Bubbling Road cemetery at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

VOCAL SOLOS AND CORNET FILL SKIES WITH MUSIC

Mrs. Elizabeth Lenard Sings Four Delightful Songs

MUGGE PLAYS

Del Monte Orchestra Broadcasts Music By Radio Tonight

Tonight's Radio Program

The program to be broadcasted from THE CHINA PRESS-Radio Corporation of China station on top of the Dollar building on Canton Road beginning at 8 o'clock tonight will consist of four orchestra selections and several instrumental solos by the Del Monte orchestra.

News bulletins broadcasted by THE CHINA PRESS.

Request phonograph selections.

A chat on "Radio" by an expert from the Radio Corporation of China.

Tune in at 8 o'clock.

The Del Monte orchestra, dispensers of jazz music that keeps dance-loving Shanghailanders tripping the light fantastic until the wee sma' hours of the gray dawn will give a number of orchestra selections and individual instrumental numbers for the benefit of Shanghai's radio fans tonight.

The musical program, which will be broadcasted from the roof of the Dollar building at 3 Canton Road between 8 and 9 o'clock tonight, will include some of the latest fox trots and other dance numbers to be received in Shanghai by the Del Monte orchestra. In addition request phonograph selections will be played as per the amateurs 'listening in' requests, and the latest news bulletins, hot off the wires and wireless, will be put on the little ether waves by THE CHINA PRESS. In view of the danger with which the Turkish situation is fraught the news bulletins are eagerly awaited for by the amateurs with sets in Shanghai.

Last night Mrs. Elizabeth Lenard, mezzo-contralto of New York accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Chapman, and Mr. George Mugge, cornet player with Maxim's Cafe orchestra, accompanied by Mr Frank Blackinger, gave the radio fans a treat of wireless music.

MRS. LENARD GOOD

Mrs. Lenard sang four numbers, "Sunset" (Dudley Buck), "Thora" (Stephen Adams), "The Train To Poppyland" (Gottschalk) and the old favorite "Mother Machree." Possessing an extremely pleasing and well trained mezzo-contralto voice Mrs. Lenard was heard to perfection in all her numbers, but was especially good singing "Mother Machree." Her voice has excellent radio qualities, especially on the higher notes, which were transmitted through unknown masses of ether with wonderful sweetness and clarity.

At the piano Mrs. W. R. Chapman showed herself an extremely accomplished pianist, her playing providing just the correct 'background' for the vocal notes and greatly assisting in keeping the proper modulation.

During and after Mrs. Lenard's numbers several 'listeners in,' including Mr. S. Webb of the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Company and an officer of the Shanghai Radio Circle; Mr. T. C. Britton of the American-Oriental Bank; Mr. A. A. Kees of the American School, and Mr. Paul Wong of Haskell Road, called the broadcasting station and informed Mr. E. G. Osborn that the tone and power last night was extremely good. Mr. Britton paid Mrs. Lenard especial compliments on her singing.

MUGGE PLAYS

Mr. George Mugge, of Maxim's Cafe orchestra, is an artist on the cornet. That much became certain last night when he finished his two cornet solos for Shanghai's radio fans. Mr. Mugge played a lyrical tropical number, "Caribee," and one of the latest jazz blue numbers "I'm Through." He was equally at home in either selection.

Mr. Mugge was accompanied on

Shantung Road Hospital Makes Appeal For Funds For Necessary Expansion

Veteran Institution, With Record Of 77 Years Of Fine Service, Now Urgently Needs New Buildings

An eloquent appeal to the public of Shanghai to come to the support of the Shantung Road Hospital, which has been ministering to the city's Chinese for 77 years and is now in urgent need of new premises, was made yesterday at the institution's annual general meeting.

Coincident with the meeting the announcement was made of a donation of $7,700 from the Shanghai Race Club, which the officers designated as a most helpful and highly appreciated start for the fund which it is hoped will be forthcoming to give the Hospital the accommodations which it so sorely needs.

The meeting yesterday, which was largely attended, was presided over by Mr. Sidney Barton, British Consul-General, who, in proposing the passing of the report and accounts for 1922, paid sincere and eloquent tribute to the work being carried on under such adverse conditions.

"The report on the Hospital's work for the past year," Mr. Barton said, "tells the same tale which it has told for many years —a tale of strenuous efforts made to meet the insistent and ever increasing want of the Chinese in the Settlement for medical and surgical treatment, made under conditions which, it seems to the visitor, to be, to say the least, not encouraging. In spite of this the report tells of work carried to the utmost limit of the resources and accommodations available.

TALES OF NEED

"There is no necessary to stress the need for the work," Mr. Barton continued, "nor the efforts being made to cope with it, but there is one point to which I should like to draw attention. This is the question of the accommodation and buildings in which the work is done."

The chairman then spoke of his return to Shanghai after 12 years and of the changes and improvements he found, in consonance with the enormous growth of the city. He had visited many fine new buildings since his return, he said.

"But nothing, I think, has struck me so much in this way as the fact that the Hospital alone remains in the same condition as for years past. Practically every other public institution has been greatly improved, or entirely rebuilt, within the past few years. We have new Municipal buildings, post offices, Customs buildings and others, but the hospital is unchanged. It

CHIHLI FACTION WANTS OWN MEN IN TWO PROVINCES

But Premier Would Rather Resign Than To Yield To Demands

(Special To The China Press)

Peking, Feb. 8.—Despite the pressure being brought to bear upon the Government by Generals Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu, Premier Chang Shou-tseng is firm in resisting the demand to appoint General Sun Chuan-fang Tuchun of Fukien, and General Shen Hun-yin, that of Kwangtung, because he believes that the appointments would throw the provinces once more in turmoil.

From Paoting and Loyang, several emissaries have come to press the measure and induce the premier to gazette the appointments, which are essential to the plan of military unification formulated by sections of the Chihli faction. Moreover, many telegrams are poured into Peking every day on this question, which is endorsed by Tuchun Chi Shih-yuan of Kiangsu. However, Premier Chang had stated that he would rather relinquish his position than to comply with the demand and he is being supported by not only the Fukien and Kwangtung residents in Peking, but also the local organisations in those two provinces.

FUKIEN LAUNCHES DRIVE TO OUST LIU KWAN-HSIUN

Mass Meeting Held To Protest Against Military Plans Of Admiral

(Special To The China Press)

Amoy, February 8.—The withdrawal of the army of General Hsu Chung-chi is being carried out without a hitch: strict peace and order is being observed everywhere.

As an expression of welcome the local bodies are extending invitations to General Lu Yao tung, son of General Lu Yung hsiang of Chekiang and Chu Tsao-pan representing the Premier, General Chang Shou-tseng.

A mass meeting was held yesterday, agitating for the ousting of Admiral Liu Kwan-hsiun of the navy, accused of having intrigued with ex-Tuchun Li Hou chi and General Sun Chuan-fang commander-in-chief of the Fukien Expedition, in conducting military operations in this province. Circulars condemning the admiral are sent broadcast in the city.

The Provincial Assembly has also telegraphed to the Central Government, protesting against the action of Sun Chuan-fang in marching his troops into Fukien.

FORTY STRIKERS SLAIN AT HANKOW; OTHERS IN JAILS

Troops Adopt Drastic Measures; Volunteers Called

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Feb. 8.—Forty of the strikers on the Kin-Han railway were killed today in a clash with troops at Liuchiamiao station near here. The troops attempted to start a train and were resisted by the strikers, whereupon the soldiers were ordered to fire, which they did with deadly effect.

In addition to killing and injuring the resisting strikers, the troops took many of them into custody, handing them over to the Tuchun at Wuchang.

As a result of these drastic measures the strikers have threatened to attack the concession in Hankow, in consequence of which a special alarm for all the volunteer companies has been sent out.

Among the strikers arrested is Sze Yang, the chief labor leader in this district.

TURKISH SITUATION IS FRAUGHT WITH DANGER BECAUSE OF DEMANDS

Smyrna Commander Orders Foreign Warships To Leave On Short Notice—British And French Refuse And Warn Turks

FRENCH CIVILIANS PREPARE TO FLEE

Lord Curzon Blames Premier Poincare For Failure Of Lausanne Conference—Says Telephone Messages Ruined Harmony As At Genoa

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Feb. 7.—The Turkish Commander at Smyrna has shortened the time given to the foreign warships to leave Smyrna from midnight to sunset this evening.

The Allied High Commissioners have ordered the Allied warships to remain until ordered to leave by their Governments.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 7.—The British and French Cabinets have agreed to reject the Turkish demand for the withdrawal of warships from Smyrna before midnight and to warn Angora that the warships have been ordered to defend themselves in case of attack.

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Feb. 7.—The warships in Smyrna consist of H. M. S. Calypso and the French cruiser, Ernest Renan.

Information from independent sources states that the entrance of the harbor of Smyrna has been laid with mines since the Mudania Convention was signed and that the only channel free brings steamers within a few yards of the coast battery.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

London, Feb. 8.—Lord Curzon, in an official statement to the press today, laid the blame for the failure of the Lausanne Conference at the door of Premier Poincare, of France. M. Poincare, he said, "disturbed the conference by persistent telephone messages, just as previously he disturbed the Genoa conference."

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Paris, Feb. 8.—French public opinion disapproves of Premier Poincare's policy at Lausanne, and there are many vehement complaints in the newspapers about the failure of the negotiations. These complaints became especially bitter after it was announced that Ismet Pasha had left Lausanne and that all Turkish military officers had been recalled from furloughs.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Berlin, Feb. 8.—The Angora government has ordered all foreign warships of more than one thousand tons to leave the harbor at Smyrna. The British cruiser Curacao has been ordered to proceed to Smyrna.

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Feb. 7.—The Turkish Commander at Smyrna today informed the commanders of the Allied warships there that he had been ordered to enforce their withdrawal if they did not comply with the Turkish order to leave Smyrna before midnight.

The Allied High Commissioners have strongly protested against the demand that the Allied warships should leave Smyrna and uttered a warning that there would be grave consequences if any Turkish attempt at coercion should be made.

The French Consul at Smyrna reports that the French colony there is greatly disturbed at the menacing situation and requests authority to embark French subjects on the Messageries Maritimes steamer, Pierre Loti, and the French cruiser at Smyrna.

The Turkish newspapers publish an order by the Military commander at Constantinople that all officers on the active or retired lists shall immediately register, otherwise they will be punished.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 7.—Responsible quarters in London consider the Turkish demand for the withdrawal of foreign warships from Smyrna most unjustifiable as the Mudania Convention is still in force till the peace treaty is signed.

The British war ships at Smyrna are protecting British interests and the possibility of their withdrawal is believed to be very remote.

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Feb. 7.—General Pelle, the French High Commissioner, receiving Turkish journalists, expressed astonishment at the change in the tone of the Turkish press towards France, especially in view of France's role of mediation at Lausanne. He said that the attitude of the Turkish delegation had apparently changed at the eleventh hour, consequent on the receipt of a telegram from Angora.

General Pelle, in conclusion, pointedly remarked: "I hope that this telegram will not prove another Ems telegram," the allusion being to the telegram which precipitated the Franco-Prussian war.

COLOGNE AREA CUT OFF FROM REST OF GERMANY

Passive Tussle Between French And Teutons Still Continues In Ruhr

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 8.—The tussle between France and Germany in the Ruhr continues. Troops have occupied Hueckeswagen, Wermelskirchen and Overath in the Elberfeld district and thus control all lines from the Ruhr into the British area. This step means the closing of one of the main outlets of German trade and leaves only the seacoast ports available.

The French have issued a decree that railway saboteurs are liable to be shot after being court-martialled.

Several more German officials have been expelled, including the Presidents of railway direction at Treves and Ludwigshafen.

The railways are apparently disorganised owing to the strikes and the French have taken over the complete railway administration of the Bavarian Palatinate. All stations in the Belgian zone have been closed.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Feb. 8.—A semiofficial statement replying to criticisms as to why the German Chancellor, Herr Cuno, was recently premitted to enter the Ruhr explains that the German Ministers were not forbidden to do so but, in view of Herr Cuno's attitude there and his secret attempt to exercise action, steps have been taken to prevent a repetition and penalties have been provided for transgressions.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Feb. 8.—It is reported from Essen that discharge at Duisburg has stopped in consequence of the refusal of shippers to pay to the French the river dues and Customs hitherto collected by the Germans. This is likely to affect the provisioning of the industrial region.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Feb. 7.—On this return from the Rhine M. Le Trocquer, the Minister of Public Works told journalists how the German Government has disorganised means of transport, and encouraged acts of sabotage on them

River traffic had been effectually resumed. Yesterday thirteen barges were brought from Duisburg to Ruhrort.

RESERVE RULING IN CASE AGAINST TWO GARAGE MEN

Concluding Testimony Taken In Fei Lung Arms Action

Judgment was reserved by Assessor Allman and Magistrate Yui of the Mixed Court yesterday at the conclusion of the case in which Tsung Ah-kung and Tsung Nyui-tsang, proprietor and salesman of the Fei Lung Garage are charged with storing arms and ammunition and with being in possession of opium and smoking apparatus. Judgment will be given Tuesday morning.

The two garage men face four counts—two of keeping cars without licence, one regarding the storing of two pistols, pistol cases and ammunition, and one regarding opium. The defense, represented by Messrs. Faison, Snyder, Franklin and Fischer, admitted possession of the arms and opium, but denied that the weapons were being stored for any "warlike" purpose and asked a dismissal of the charges, after summing up. The Court refused to dismiss the charges and inquired if counsel wished to put the defendants in the witness box, as they had intimated they might do. The defendants, however, did not testify and after considerable further argument judgment was reserved.

At the lengthy hearing yesterday testimony was given by police witnesses regarding the patrolling of Rubicon Road by the garage cars, the absence of the number plate from one car, certain alleged admissions regarding opium traffic and other suspicious circumstances which led to the arrests. The defense on cross-examination sought to show that the suspicions were unjustified. A draft of a contract for 10,000 German Mauser rifles which the first accused is alleged to have tried to destroy, the defense declared had no significance since it was unsigned and did not indicate an arms transaction. The opium found, the defense maintained, was only in such quantity as might ordinarily be on hand for personal use and the pistols were personal property.

Merchants In Fair Condition For New Year

the shortage of silver about the same extent as last.

FIRES HERALD YEAR

Fires are a common feature before this festive season for they herald the proximity of the New Year. This is not especially so in Shanghai but in other parts of China. Most insurance people say that before a Chinese New Year there is an increase of conflagrations, but this is not in Shanghai, and for this we are indebted to the very fine Fire Department in this Settlement. The highest number of calls that the Municipal Fire Brigade ever received in one month was in December—63 calls. Of this 55 proved to be genuine ones, 48 of which occurred within the Settlement and seven fires outside. The remaining eight were either false alarms or not traced and three fires were due to the faulty construction of chimneys. The damage to the assessed property within the Settlement was estimated at Tls. 43,005. So it would seem that we have enjoyed immunity in this respect. On the other hand, small shops take advantage of the approach of the New Year and set fire to their cargo, but Shanghai is singularly free from this.

HANKOW GETS BAD NAME

Hankow has been an extremely bad place for conflagrations and insurance companies have decided not to operate there for a little while. There have been such a stream of fires in that town, both in the native city and in the Concession that insurance companies have got the blue funk.

The biggest fires in December last was in a fly cotton godown, insured for Tls. 35,000, in which the damage was about 45 percent. The loss in another cotton fire in that month was in a godown where cargo was valued at Tls. 9,000 was trifling. The damage to glass cargo in another fire was 25 percent of the insured value of Tls. 10,000. Thirty-five percent damage was also done that month to a Tls. 14,500 worth of cotton.

JANUARY FIRES

Coming down to last month, there were 22 fires during the period January 1 to January 12, and the majority of these sprang up in Chinese shops, lending color to the belief that the small merchant in China is too keen on gathering in the shekels from the Insurance concerns just before New Year time.

In the piece good business there has been only one failure worth speaking about, involving a sum of Tls. 150,000 with a few other burst-ups. On the whole, the Chinese piece goods dealer seems to be pleased, with himself not because he has made any large profits—the year has been a thin one in that respect—but because he had escaped large losses. From the point of view of settlements it has been a better year than last, the settlement in piece goods being more easily negotiated. To support this it may be mentioned that native interest is easy, the lenders being prepared to advance on piecegoods.

Hospital Asks For More Funds

seems to me that this is certainly not as it should be. It is out of keeping with what otherwise would be a well balanced development of the public side of Shanghai."

The time has come, the speaker continued, for those who have supported the Hospital so generously in the past to make a new effort and to see if it is not possible to provide new accommodations and enable the institution to take its proper place in modern Shanghai. There was a special call to do this, he said, in view of the fact that the Hospital is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, public institution in the city.

With regard to the possibility of an allocation of funds from the British Boxer Indemnity Mr. Barton said he could express no opinion, but when the time came to put forward the names of institutions deserving of consideration in this respect it would certainly stand in the front rank.

TRIBUTE TO STAFF

When the report and accounts had been passed and the committees for the new year had been elected, Sir Edward Pearce arose to thank the Hospital staff for their labors. He said:

"It has again fallen to my lot to propose a vote of thanks and appreciation to the staff and visiting doctors.

"To the visiting doctors, Dr. W. L. New, Dr. Cooper Patrick, Dr. Hay Bolton, Dr. Friedlander, Dr. Billinghurst, I offer the thanks of the subscribers for their untiring zeal and assistance given to the staff. It is really wonderful to me how these busy men can find time to give their voluntary aid and medical ability to the afflicted and suffering Chinese. In this hospital, ladies and gentlemen, our Chinese residents, more especially the poorer class, are offered the best medical and surgical skill obtainable, and when one considers the enormous number of patients that annually visit the hospital for help, 105,989 out patients and over 2,600 in patients during 1922, and then compares it from a commercial point of view, that is, the amount subscribed by the Chinese public, which according to the report, amounts to only Tls. 16,700 or say $23,000, it is not, I venture to think, an over-generous subscription; in fact, it requires little calculation to arrive at the subscribed amount per patient. Surely the more wealthy Chinese in these settlements, without loss of face can put their hands in their pockets to a deeper extent, and thus show a more tangible proof, not only of their generosity, but of their gratitude to a great work which is being carried on in face of the present meagre accommodation.

TOIL DAY AND NIGHT

"With reference to the permanent staff of foreigners, four resident doctors and four superintending sisters. A mere cursory glance at the report before you must open your eyes to this marvellous work that they are responsible for. The necessary organisation, the many details to which they have to attend, as well as the supervision over the Chinese staff with whom they work so harmoniously. All this work is thrown on the resident staff; they toil day by day, night by night, conferring benefits untold and unsung upon suffering humanity. They do not advertise, but work quietly on in their deeds of self-sacrifice. All we can do is to let the world know of their good work, in the hopes that the community of Shanghai will always stand by them. Let our gratitude this afternoon, therefore, go out to them in unstinted manner.

"To Dr. Price, who took over the work of Dr. Davenport, during the latter's home leave, our thanks are due, he has done yeoman's work.

"I would also like to make special reference to, and express our appreciation of, the valuable services of Miss Sharpe, who has just left on furlough after seven years of hospital work and also to Mrs. Smith who leaves us next March after close upon nine years hard toil. We appreciate their work more than words can express. These two able ladies have really served in the hospital as superintending sisters, rather than matrons, under which name they have always appeared in the annual report.

"In conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, we welcome back Dr. Davenport among us and are pleased to see how well he looks. We trust he will be spared many years to continue his most valuable work. We also have to welcome Dr. Agnes E. Towers and Miss Huggett as now attached to our resident staff.

"With these few words, Mr. Chairman, I have very great pleasure in proposing a most cordial vote of thanks to the Foreign and Chinese staff attached to the Shantung Road Hospital."

DR. DAVENPORT SPEAKS

Dr. C. J. Davenport, Medical Superintendent, thanked Mr. Barton and Sir Edward for the kind words regarding the staff and re-emphasised the need for new buildings.

"The hospital work has reached its limit under present conditions," he said, "and must now either mark time or deteriorate. We are waiting hopefully, however, for a solution of the difficulty."

The present buildings, for the most part, he said, were not worth spending more money on. The situation demanded a big rebuilding scheme. Such development would permit what China most needs, the training of nurses, doctors and midwives and participation in the medical education of the country.

Mr. J. H. Teesdale then gave some interesting facts regarding the hospital's early history and, like the previous speakers, stressed the requirements of the institution.

He had found by looking over the records, he said, that the Hospital originated through a meeting of British residents held in Hospital Hall, near the North Gate of the City, on December 3, 1845. Mr. Rutherford Alcock, afterward Sir Rutherford Alcock, British Consul-General, was in the chair. The premises near the City were declared unsafe in 1872 and on July 11 of the following year the patients were moved into the quarters at present in use. The premises were leased from the London Mission until 1901, when they were purchased and from time to time other buildings in the compound and even shops on Shantung Road were acquired and adapted, resulting in the present "extraordinary jumble of brick and mortar."

"Shanghai has been very good to us," he concluded, "especially the Shanghai Race Club, and now that our need is greater than ever before I hope that our appeal to the whole of Shanghai may not fall upon deaf ears."

CHECK FROM RACE CLUB

A draft for $7,700 was then presented to the secretary of the Hospital, Mr. Ellis Pugh, by Mr. H. H. Read on behalf of the Race Club. The sum represents a part of the proceeds of the New Year's race meeting, the money secured at which was divided between the fund for British war graves at Tsingtau, the Kings' Daughters' Society and the Shantung Road Hospital. Mr. Read spoke briefly in appreciation of the Hospital's work and suggested that the Race Club check might be a beginning for the fund which is being asked.

Mr. Barton expressed sincere thanks to the Race Club for their generous gift.

Following are the Committee named for the new year:

Foreign Committee—the Trustees (ex-officio), Dr. C. J. Davenport, Dr. R. J. Marshall, Dr. E. D. Jackson, Sir Edward Pearce and Messrs. A. D. Bell, Ellis Pugh, F. R. Scott, R. W. Wells and G. S. Aveyard.

Fengtien Will Pass New Year Crisis Safely

(Eastern News Agency)

Mukden, Feb. 7.—According to information emanating from well informed Chinese sources, it is observed that Fengtien Province, with its abundant financial resources, will be able easily to tide over the China New Year but it is rather questionable if Kirin and Heilungkiang Provinces will do likewise. In view of the fact, however, that Heilungkiang Province is comparatively better off than Kirin Province, the former is expected to pass the China New Year by hook or by crook without any serious troubles. It is noteworthy, therefore, how Kirin Province will get through the forthcoming straits, taking into consideration its financial difficulties.

HARDING ASKS CONGRESS TO O.K. NEW DEBT PLAN

President Also Urges Passage Of Subsidy Bill

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Feb. 7—Submitting the report of the American Debt Funding Commission to Congress today, the President requested its approval of the debt agreement with Britain as "a recommitment of the English-speaking world to the validity of a contract."

President Harding also asked for the enactment of the Ship Subsidy Bill because "it is as important to avoid losses as to secure funds on debts."

President Harding approved the judgment of the Commission that the agreement "fully preserved the integrity of the obligation and represented the first great step towards readjustment of inter-Governmental obligations growing out of the War."

Senator Smoot then introduced the bill amending the debt law in order to provide for the acceptance of the British and similar settlements on the part of other nations.

President Harding pointed out that while the debt settlement would bring over $150,000,000 yearly, the United States was operating Government-owned shipping at a loss of $50,000,000 yearly. He intimated that, if the Subsidy Bill was defeated and Congress failed to submit an alternative, the Executive "may proceed as best it can to end the losses in liquidation and humiliation."

Chinese Youth Gets Three-Years Term For Firing House

For setting fire to premises at 539 North Chengtu Road in order to conceal the theft of $300 in notes from his father-in-law, a young Chinese was sentenced to three years' imprisonment by Assessor Allman and Magistrate Yui of the Mixed Court yesterday. In view of the youth of the prisoner, however, the Court ruled that one year of the sentence might be suspended if his behavior warrants.

Testimony in the case was given by Detective Sergeant Knight, who investigated the premises during and after the fire on January 31. He found that there were outbreaks in three parts of the establishment. Later the father-in-law of the accused reported to the police that $300 had been stolen during the fire. The accused was searched and the notes were found in his sock. He then confessed the robbery and arson.

Italian Deputy Attacks U. S.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Rome, Feb. 8.—During the discussion of the question of ratification of the Washington treaties a young Fascist deputy, Francesco Ziunta, said that America's position in the pcstbellum period was that of a non-interested spectator, "except where her own economic interests were concerned, especially when she desired to uphold her rights against England's economic predominance." He declared he did not believe in America's professed humanitarian principles, and described the American policy as "profiteering." He was openly rebuked for these statements, even by his closest friends. He finally voted for ratification.

FRANCE MAY SIGN

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Feb. 7.—M. Raynaldy today concluded the draft report for the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Deputies on the Bill ratifying the Four-Power Pacific Treaty.

The Bill adds a rider to Article II, stipulating that, in the event of the rights of the contracting parties in relation to insular possessions in the Pacific Ocean being threatened by aggressive action by any other Power, France would not be obliged to give armed assistance towards their defence and says:

"The Treaty implies no alliance or obligation to participate in defensive action."

With the foregoing reservation, the reporter concludes in favor of ratification and points out that the Treaty, advantages of which "are all of a purely moral order," indirectly benefits signatory Powers like the South American Republics who border on the Pacific.

CAMPOS IS BEATEN BY C.W. PORTER

Brilliant Billiard Match Goes To Ex-Champ By 87 Points

IS GREAT BATTLE

Phillips And Prince Win Games, Former Breaking 96

In one of the most bitterly fought billiard matches which has ever featured a Shanghai championship, Mr. C. W. Porter, former title holder, defeated Mr. J. P. de Campos at the American Club last night by a score of 800 to 713. The elimination of the Portuguese player came as a surprise to many who figured that this was his big year. But Porter, veteran of many championship tournaments, won through steadiness after tearing loose to a lead of 174 points in the session which preceded dinner.

Both players made many brilliant shots, Porter contributing many beautiful screw and draw efforts while Campos was more successful with two and three-cushion shots, some of them bringing rounds of applause from the big crowd.

The after-dinner session was replete with thrills for Porter was far from his best form and Campos kept plugging away to breaks of from 20 to 30 until at one time he was but 48 points behind the former title holder. The second 400 points furnished one of the tightest billiard scraps ever seen in this, or any other, town.

PRINCE AND PHILLIPS

While Porter was trimming Campos, R. P. Phillips was hanging it on Harry Gibson at the French Club and two tables away Gerry Wootten was biting the dust left by J. W. Prince as he sailed away with a 800-668 victory. Phillips walloped Gibson in a 800-451 game and the former secretary of the Association hung up a break of 96. Rather an unusual performance as it came with his first visit to the table. Gibson missed and Phillips tallied his 96. He also made a 42.

The Prince-Wootten game was rather slow. Prince made a high run of 41 and also got 30, 28, 26 and 21 while Wootten, in his first appearance as a championship tournament player, recorded breaks of 38, 24, 25, 26 and 30. Both players have played better billiards and Wootten, particularly, has demonstrated that he is capable of a far better game than he provided for Prince.

PORTER vs. CAMPOS

At the American Club the high runs were few and far between. It was just a tight old billiard game with both players going along cautiously, often playing safeties. There were many misses of easy shots and while there were just as many brilliant ones, both players were nervous at times.

Campos was really brilliant in the second session when Porter seemed to suffer from a bad slump after getting his big lead. Before dinner the former champ reached his third century before his opponent had tallied 150. He had 402 when Campos had chalked up 228 and the latter just couldn't get going. The first-session play was poor, Porter having an average of 7.8 with Campos contributing a miserable 4.5, probably the worst record this brilliant billiardist has made this season. Porter had two and a 33 before the dinner bell rang while Campos made 47 as his only big break. The first 400 went in an hour and 20 minutes.

THEN THE BATTLE

When the match was resumed the fun began and those lucky enough to be around the table were treated to a rare scrap.

As Campos passed his third hundred Porter was 121 in the lead and a break of 45 gave him the edge as the scoreboard read 539 to 317. Campos replied with 29, five minutes afterward Porter made the same break, Campos got a 32 and then there was trouble.

Campos made 85 points while Porter was netting nine and the former reached 472 when the ex champ got to 617. Porter got 18 and a miss. Campos recorded four then 24. Porter marked 28 but Campos tore off 44 and Porter missed while Campos got four, then 27, as the former top notcher in the local billiard world worked hard for seven. The pair started the after-dinner innings at 9:15 with Porter 174 up. An hour later the Portuguese star had chopped 74 off the lead.

SCORING IS SLOW

Porter got 12, Campos, 7: Porter missed after making a wonderful three-cushion shot and Campos muffed one after getting a fluke. But Porter missed again. Campos then tallied 17 by brilliant play, lost the white and played a safety. The score was then 683 to 603. Porter took no chances and ran his white to the cushion but Campos replied with a cannon after going around the table. He then missed an easy shot. A fluke helped Porter score a useful 28 bringing the figures to 711-606.

Careful play made scoring slow and several visits resulted in few points, Campos having a slight edge, however, with breaks of 20 and 23, until Porter reached 728. Campos was then nearest, 48 points behind with a score of 680. Porter scored eight, Campos missed. So did Porter. Campos made 17. Porter got two and Campos, five. When Porter had hit 761, Campos was 712 and then the ex-champ made a run of 27, played safe, Campos missed, and the game ended, 800-713.

After dinner Porter had an average of 8.09, Campos averaging 7.01, much better than in his first four centuries.

Porter had a lead of 172 when they started after dinner and the Lusitano Club man cut this down to 87, truly a remarkable performance although Porter has often played better billiards.

The next big match in the series comes Saturday night when Johnson and Captain Barrett clash at the Marine Engineers Institute. This match will be worth seeing for Barrett is at the top of his form while Johnson is billed to retain his title.

Porter and Prince will probably meet at the American Club on Monday night.

AMERICAN SCHOOL BASKETBALLERS WIN AT SOOCHOW

A group of American School basketballers took two games from Soochow teams on Friday and Saturday of last week. Friday night, the Shanghai team played the Soochow foreign team, and in a very clean and fast game, won handily to the tune of 61 to 35.

On Saturday afternoon, the school boys played the Soochow Baptist team and again won with a score of 43 to 26. This game was far from clean, especially the second half, when the Shanghai boys seemed determined to follow the ball too eagerly, with the result that there was holding and constant interference, which was called far too seldom, so that as usual when the whistle does not check it, the game got rougher and rougher.

The Soochow foreign team consisted of Johnson, Jackson, McMillan, White, Jacobus and Geldart. The Baptist team had Johnson, McMillan, Jackson, the Voong brothers and Geldart. The School team had Roy and Dud Squires, Smith, Hager, Mc-Ginnis, Shipley, Parker. Both games were marked by the superior shooting of the schoolboys.

Blues Have Little Trouble Defeating Public School In Basketball League

BY TOMMY GRAFTON

The Blues put themselves three and a half games in the lead and cinched first place in the Foreign League last night by defeating the Public School in an easy game on the Y.M.C.A. floor. The score was 45 to 22.

The Blues opened up with a grand attack, Lolly Goldman caging the initial basket, which was shortly followed by one from Coulcher. After Levis had scored for the School, the Blues got into their stride, and with Goldman, Coulcher and Neprud scoring every minute, the schoolboys had little chance to show their ability. At half-time the Blues were leading 28 to 8.

The second half developed into somewhat more of a battle, the School showing better teamwork and more ability to find the basket. Coulcher and Harold Nash did most of the shooting for the Blues in this period and Levis and Brokett were the high point men for the Public School. The Blues, while not playing their best basketball, showed up well, the teamwork and general playing was good, and the good shooting accounted for a high score. Coulcher played magnificently at forward, tallying nine baskets, and Harold Nash dropped in five goals. Neprud played a whale of game at center, leading the passing and shooting in classy form.

Levis was easily the pick of the losers, scoring five baskets, several of them beautiful shots from center. Abeles troubled Neprud considerably in the last minutes of the game, and ended the scoring with a nice shot from the side.

Last night's game makes the Blues' first place hold a mathematical certainty.

The summary follows:

Blues 45		Public School 22
Goldman	lf	Levis
Coulcher	rf	Brockett
Neprud	c	Remedios
H. Nash	lg	Mahon
E. Nash	rg	Lewis
Day	rg	Abeles

Goals from floor: Goldman 4; Coulcher 9, Neprud 4, H. Nash 5, Levis 5, Brockett 3, Remedios, Abeles. Goals from fouls: Coulcher 1, Levis 2. Referee: Baldwin. Timekeeper: Johnston. Scorer: Grafton.

Witness Claims Di Villa Owns No 'Viscount's' Title

Further testimony was taken at the Mixed Court yesterday in the case in which the Viscount E. M. di Villa is charged with conspiring to defraud the International Gold and Silver Currency Stock and Produce Exchange of $50,000 by representing the Consular registration fee to have been $100,000 instead of $50,000.

The case is being heard by Assessor Tanaka and Magistrate Li and Messrs. Yano and Kikuchi appear for the plaintiffs while Mr. J. G. Priestwood represents the defendant.

Yesterday's session was occupied with the cross-examination of the first witness for the prosecution, Mr. Sauto, former secretary of the Exchange, who went over his previous evidence and added somewhat of a sensation by giving it as his opinion that the defendant had no right to the title of "viscount" but used it to further his own ends.

Questioned regarding the receipt given by the Italian Consulate for the registration fee, the witness said he thought Mr. di Villa had altered it. The payment had been made by Mr. di Villa, the receipt was received by him, bore his initials and there was an item in his balance sheet to show that the money paid to the Consulate was $100,000.

"But what you are saying is purely a matter of argument," said Mr. Priestwood. "You do not know for sure that he altered the receipt."

"If he did not make the alteration he must have known that an alteration was made by someone, because the document did not agree with the amount which was supposed to have been paid originally to the Italian Consulate," replied the witness. "When he saw the balance sheet and the contradictory entry he should have remarked on it immediately."

DISPUTES TITLE

After further questioning as to the books and entries Mr. Priestwood asked the witness regarding his question of the defendant's title.

Do you suggest that Mr. di Villa is not entitled to the title of Viscount?

Yes.

You suggest that he was calling himself a Viscount in order to get people's confidence and then cheat them?

Yes.

Do you know whether or not the Japanese Consul ever inquired from the Italian Consul whether Mr. di Villa was an Italian viscount or not?

I heard something aout it.

And do you know what the reply was?

The reply was that Mr. di Villa was once a protegee of the Italian Government but he was not Italian and not a viscount.

Did the letter of reply not say that Mr. di Villa's grand-father was a viscount?

Yes.

Mr. Prestwood remarked that in a former hearing of the case witness had told the Court that accused took advantage of his position as viscount to secure other people's confidence in order to cheat them. He wanted to establish that that was not the fact and that Mr. di Villa was a real viscount.

Mr. Priestwood to witness: So your suggestion that Mr. di Villa had no right in any way to the title of viscount is not substantiated?

Mr. Kikuchi protested that the question was irrelevant.

Mr. Priestwood: Do you know what sum was allotted by the Exchange for organisation work?

I do not remember.

So that was before you had anything to do with the Exchange?

The question of money allotted was decided at the promoters' meeting.

HEARING ADJOURNED

Witness continued that the capital of the Exchange was forty million dollars and the amount probably allotted for organisation expenses was probably $20,000 at least. He was not aware that eventually this appropriation was extended to $200,000. There were no resolutions passed to that effect. The accused had formerly attempted to take an action against the Exchange for defamation of character and for salaries due. The Italian Consul however, acted as a mediator and suggested that the Exchange give Mr. di Villa $10,000 to square up the matter. It was the Consul's wish to see an amicable settlement to the whole thing.

Mr. Priestwood then produced a letter written by Dr. Fischer, legal adviser of the Exchange Company, to the effect that after going carefully into the circumstances of the case and making protracted investigations he, Dr. Fischer, would say that there was no evidence to prefer any charges against Mr. di Villa. Later on however, the charges were lodged against the accused.

The case was adjourned sine die.

It is hoped that the Club will compete in all of the five open events. E. A. Ericson is the only sculler, and it is quite probable that he will enter for the sculling event.

BERKEFELD FILTER

THE IMPORTANT PART OF THE FILTER IS THE CYLINDER OR CANDLE AS IT IS CALLED IN SHANGHAI. IN THE GENUINE BERKEFELD FILTERS THIS CYLINDER IS MADE OF INFUSORIAL EARTH.

The water passes through the walls from outside to the inside leaving all impurities on the external surface. The impurities gradually produce a slimy coating on the outside of the cylinder and thus reduce the output of the filter. All that is required, to restore the original filtering capacity is to carefully brush the surface of the cylinder while holding it under a tap. To secure a perfectly sterile filtrate periodical sterilising of the cylinder is required. Complete sterilization can be obtained by placing the cylinder, after being cleansed by brushing, in a clean vessel with cold or tepid water and then boiling it for an hour.

EVERY KITCHEN AND PANTRY SHOULD CONTAIN AS PART OF ITS STANDARD EQUIPMENT A BERKEFELD FILTER, AND SO SHOULD EVERY HOUSE AND SAILING BOAT.

The advantages claimed for Berkefeld Filters are:

1.—They are simple in construction and can be easily cleaned and sterilised.

2.—They give a filtrate free from any suspended matter and from germs, provided proper attention be paid to regular cleansing and sterilising.

3.—They give an output of sterile filtrate from five to ten times larger than other germ-proof filters.

NAVIGATION ON UPPER YANGTSZE ENDS FOR WINTER

Water Too Low For Safe Passage Of Vessels

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Ichang, Jan. 30.—Winter navigation of the Upper Yangtsze has now come to an end as the water has become so low and the rapids so bad that further attempts are considered too risky. The Dahvar sprang a leak on the way up to Chungking and had to be beached on January 21. She had to be hauled over the huge rapid at the Ch'ing Tan, and it is thought that the hauling has sprung one or two leaks. She was leaking badly and had to be beached. Her cargo was discharged and the captain sent down to Ichang for a pump which the River Inspector managed to get sent up to him.

HELD AT CHUNGKING

The Tsesui is at Chungking and will not come down until the water rises a little. The Hsiakiang and the Kiangnan are both here.

Not only are the steamers on the Upper Yangtsze feeling the scarcity of water but those on the middle section between here and Hankow are having a very hard time. The water is phenomenally low and most of the larger steamers have been withdrawn. The smaller class, which usually plies to Changsha, is now maintaining the service of all the companies between here and Hankow.

The long drought has broken at last. Rain fell on January 20 and the wind shifting to the north, it was followed by a fall of snow and the weather became bitterly cold. The rainfall was not considerable but has been sufficient to lay the dust and restore hopes of a harvest which had almost been despaired of.

Business is reported to be very bad and there is not much movement of cargo. It is feared that some of the large merchants in Chungking may not be able to stand the strain of settling accounts at the New Year. Even small business men are feeling the pinch. The price of food is so high that there is not much money to spare for other things.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

General Wang, Commander-in-Chief of the Upper Yangtsze Defenses, recently held a memorial service for his brother with an imposing procession through the streets.

General Yang Sen has now left Ichang and is said to have gone overland to join his troops at Kienchih, but whether that means that he is ready to try conclusions with the Szechuenese has not been divulged. He has now been appointed Commander of the 16th Division of the Northern Army, and has already issued a proclamation in his new rank.

Two disastrous fires occurred here on January 18 and 19 when two or three hundred families were rendered homeless. Most of them were in a very pitiable condition, but help has been forthcoming from some of the philanthropic societies. The Ichang branch of the Chinese Red Cross Society also came to the rescue and raised a good sum of money—about $427 was given by the foreign community.

TWO FOREIGNERS IN MIXED COURT ON ARMS CHARGE

Men Arrested At Broadway Address Claim French Protection

Two foreigners claiming Czecho-Slovak citizenship appeared before Assessor King and Magistrate Loh in the Mixed Court yesterday charged with being in possession of firearms and ammunition at 718 Broadway East.

Detective Sergeant Balchin testified that on Wednesday he searched the address named and found three rifles, a magazine pistol, a bag of gunpowder and two rounds of ammunition. The first accused, B. Zeustok, a tailor, was on the premises and said that the arms belonged to the second accused, T. Liener, a mechanic. Both claimed to be Czechs and claimed the protection of the French Court. Their passports, however, were issued by the Bureau of Foreign Affairs at Peking and did not bear the French Consular stamp.

The Court decided to remand the case and write a letter to the French Consular Court, asking whether that court wished to take jurisdiction. If so the accused would be handed over, otherwise they will be tried in the Mixed Court.

Weddings

TOLSON—FAUROT

Miss Julia Belle Faurot, said to be the most-proposed-to-girl-in-the-world, became the bride of the 1,101st suitor, Mr. Gustav I. Tolson, manager of the cotton department of the Robert Dollar Company, at Holy Trinity Cathedral on Wednesday afternoon, the Very Rev. C. J. Fs. Symons, Dean, officiating.

Miss Faurot, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Faurot of Chicago, and a popular belle of the Chicago social set, is accredited with being one of the most sought after girls in the world. According to Chicago, San Francisco and Japan papers Miss Faurot was proposed to by 1,100 men before Mr. Tolson, the one thousand one hundred and first suitor, captured her heart.

News dispatches from Chicago on January 6, when she left for Shanghai, said that a coterie of friends and disappointed suitors held up the train for five minutes bidding her goodbye.

Miss Faurot arrived in Shanghai on the President Wilson last week, accompanied by her parents, and by her brother, Mr. George Faurot. They will continue on a trip around the world on the s.s. Resolute, which arrives in Shanghai on February 26.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a beautiful wedding gown of ivory satin trimmed with old Brussels lace with a court train fastened to her hair by a coronet of seed pearls. Little Eugenie Reynell, dressed in a pretty little gown of cherry velvet was train-bearer. Mrs. Harold Essex Raynell was matron of honor.

Mr. J. H. Liddell acted as best man and the ushers were Mr George Faurot, Mr. J. C. Greig, Mr F. A. Pollock, Mr. R. Gordon, and Mr. L. R. Andrews.

After the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mrs. John Liddell, 148 Bubbling Well Road. Mr. and Mrs. Tolson left immediately afterwards for a short honeymoon. They will be 'at home' after March 1 at 548 Rue Ratard.

GOODRICH—SWANN

The wedding of Miss Anne Swann and Mr. Carrington Goodrich took place on February 4 at Peking. The bride, who is a graduate of Vassar with the class of 1917 came to China from Plainfield, N. J., in 1920 under the American Board Mission. The bridegroom is a 1917 Williams graduate, and is now Assistant Resident Director of the China Medical Board of the Rockefeller Foundation.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. J. Bentley, assisted by Dr. Chauncey Goodrich, father of the bridegroom, and was attended only by a few close friends of the family. The bride, was given away by Mr. Lawrence Mead. Miss Laura Cross of the American Board Mission was maid of honor and Miss Dorothy Jacobus of the Peking Union Medical College was bridesmaid. The Misses Dorothea and Janet Smith, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls. Three other children held the ribbon which formed the bridal aisle—Master Mead, Miss Edwards, and Master Ch'uan. Mr. Aura Severinghaus of the pre-medical school of the Peking Union Medical College, acted as best man. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Paul Joselyn and Mrs. Mead.

Whangpoo Conservancy Board
Notification No. 125.

PROHIBITION OF DUMPING OF MUD IN THE WHANGPOO

The state of the Whangpoo—is now such that no further dumping of mud or refuse can be permitted at any point in the River, whether it be in the channel, in the Old Channel, on the foreshore, between the Board's crib works, or behind the Board's training walls. All such dumping will therefore be prohibited on and after four months from the date hereof, i.e., on 5th June, 1923, in accordance with Article 7 of the Conservancy Agreement of 1912, and Article 37 of the Harbor Regulations, and any person thereafter dumping or causing to be dumped mud will be liable to prosecution before his national authority for damages to the River, in accordance with Article 47 of the Harbour Regulations.

The Board has now in operation pumping plant of capacity sufficient to dispose of mud from private frontage dredging operations and is prepared at reasonable rates to empty mud barges, provided they are of suitable construction and delivered alongside the mud pump. Furthermore the Board is prepared to undertake dredging alongside riparian properties anywhere in the River below Yang Shih Chiao Creek (above Lunghua) at reasonable rates, in accordance with Article 9, par. 5 of the Conservancy Agreement.

They also sold Gold Dollars at 71⅝ for cash, 71¼ February and 71⅛ for forward delivery. The market closed firm with sellers at these rates.

Banks were quoting 3s. 1½d. and 73¼ for Sterling and Gold Dollar bills for delivery prior to China New Year and 3s. 1¼d. and 72¾ for subsequent deliveries. There were possible buyers of Franc bills at 1160.

Weekly Review Of Shanghai Trade

BY DAVID ARAKIE
(Financial Editor)

A feature of the silk market during the past few days has been the inability of buyers to secure certain grades of silk. Europe has been in the market for fine silk, 13-15 demierre, but attempts to scour for supplies have so far proved fruitless. A certain local firm of exporters failed to obtain even five bales of this quality silk. The season for fine silks is now practically over, and buyers would have to wait till the opening of the next season in June.

Prices for all grades of silk are very strong, and this must naturally be so where supplies are so small. Some business in re-reeled tsatlees has been done with Lyons, but nothing has been put through with the United States. The price of this silk, it may be mentioned, shows a decline from Tls. 1,020 per picul for the medium grade to Tls. 980 per picul, this is principally because of the proximity of the Chinese New Year, some dealers realising their stock for the festive occasion.

EXCHANGE HAMPERS SILK

Some business has also been out through with New York in tussah at Tls. 750 for the best grade.

The wide variations in the rate of the franc has naturally impeded trading with Lyons. The French buyer is looking forward to a fall in exchange, and is waiting for a lower level of prices. The fluctuations in the past few days have been as much as ten percent. On Friday last the banks were selling four month bills on France at 1,250 francs, and on Monday it was possible to get 1,135 francs, going up to 1,185 francs on Tuesday and then down again on Wednesday to 1,140 francs.

EXCITEMENT MIGHT COME

Stocks of silk are very light in Shanghai in every branch. It cannot, therefore, be expected that prices could go down very much, even if they appeared at any time to be weak. Should the demand spring up in bulk there would be wild excitement in the market.

FILATURES EXHAUSTED

It is very difficult to estimate the stock in the interior. It may be that some Chinese dealers are witholding the balance of their stocks for higher prices. Strictly speaking, the supplies are extremely small for this time of the season. Some qualities like Minchung, Shantung and Shanghai filatures are entirely exhausted while in the case of tussah and re-reeled tsatlees and other grades the balance of the stocks must be very small.

As regards tussah, it is so difficult to speak with any degree of accuracy. Both Japan and the United States have been scrambling for supplies and as the markets are at Shanghai Antung and Chefoo the conclusions are not easily arrived at. When the demand is good, the price of tussah has known to go up ten percent in one day. At any rate, since the past three months the tussah market has remained fairly steady. All new deliveries are commanding higher prices than for more forward periods.

HOLIDAY FOR PIECE GOODS

There has been no new business to speak of this past few days and clearances have been small. Dealers and merchants have now practically closed their books and we are pleased to say failures have been few and not serious.

Trade will not resume to any extent until Monday 26th instant and it is fully expected that prices will then be advanced all round. This is most necessary, in view of the great disparity between local values and replacing costs.

Both cloth and cotton in Manchester are steady but business is reported quieter.

FLOUR BUYING SMALL

The Shanghai Flour market is a little steadier in sympathy with the firmer undertone of American flour. A limited business was done, "Club Straight" being quoted at G.$1.50 per sack, the equivalent of Tls. 2.14 per sack. Chinese buyers, on account of the near approach of their New Year, have not been operating much, but some lower grade flour has been done at prices ranging from Tls. 1.65 to Tls. 2.07 per sack.

No business has been done in wheat, American wheat being quoted at more than Tls. 4.55 per picul, buyer's ideas in Shanghai being lower than Tls. 4.40 per picul.

Last week we received from the United States some 5,000 to 6,000 tons of wheat and about 4,000 tons of flour. Stocks in Shanghai are about 250,000 sacks of foreign flour and about 50,000 sacks of local flour. There is almost no stock of Chinese wheat in Shanghai.

METALS NOT SO ACTIVE

The volume of business in the iron and steel market in Shanghai is now less than was recorded in previous weeks. Locally, there has not been quite a lot doing on account of the material advances in the prices of American steel products, due naturally to the fact that Belgian and German manufacturers are out of the market, and also on account of the advancing prices in Great Britain.

There have been inquiries for practically every line of steel product. From Harbin there have been received a number of inquiries, but so far no business has been closed.

TIN PURCHASES

There have been fairly good imports of tin from Hongkong. Fresh trading in this metal was reported this week, the Chinese merchants buying some 2,000 slabs for delivery after the Chinese New Year at the rate of Tls. 74 per picul ex-godown. In the previous week, 1,000 slabs were also contracted for at Tls. 70 per picul. Stocks in Shanghai are small, and the local market has risen as a result of the demand from the Shaoshing district.

The copper market is absolutely flat, the rate being Tls. 34 per picul.

Stocks of tinplates in Shanghai are estimated at about a thousand boxes, but no fresh business is reported on account of the approach of the Chinese New Year. The ruling quotation is Tls. 7.75 ex-godown.

Supplies of wire nails in the Shanghai market are limited to about 5,000 to 6,000 kegs, and the rate Tls. 6 per keg.

Last week the Japanese bought fair quantities of tinplates on account of Japanese prices being high.

Lead is firm as a result of poor stocks here. Sellers are not disposed to part with their holdings. Local rate is Tls. 12.75 per picul for B. M. lead, the London quotation being £28.10 per ton cif Shanghai.

The London Metals Exchange is considerably active and prices are advancing. There is more buying of tin and copper, and altogether an optimistic note is struck in the cables received from London.

TRADE GOING TO ENGLAND

The Far Eastern markets, which have been practically lost to the British iron and steel industry, are now beginning to go back to England. Quite a large tonnage has been moving from London to Japan in black sheets. The ordinary merchant business which used to go to the cheapest sellers, the Continent, is now going from China and Japan to England and the United States on account of the uncertainty of Belgian and German deliveries. Continental steel prices are also dearer on account of exchange, and in consequence business with the Continent is almost stagnant. Japanese specifications for black sheets, cold-rolled, have an agreed price now of £16 f. o. b. There is good demand for early shipment but the British manufacturers are quoting no better than March and April.

AMERICAN STEEL PRICES

Steel prices in the States are on the ascendency. Electrolytic copper has touched 15, while tin is firm with an active demand. Cable advices state that sales of fabricated steel are the largest on record, and buying is heavy with prices very firm. There is an increasing demand for American copper from abroad, and also a better inquiry for zinc.

CHINESE ANTIMONY

As a result of the improvement in the price of Chinese antimony Japanese prices have gone up. The improvement in the American and British markets has given a strong undertone to prices of all steel and iron goods on the Yokohama and Osaka markets.

SHANGHAI METALS

Local prices for some of the lines not mentioned above are:

Zinc ingots, Chinese make, Tls. 16.50 to Tls. 17 per picul; nickels 98 percent to 99 percent purity, Tls 60 to Tls. 62 per picul; pig iron, Chinese make, Tls. 39 to Tls. 41 per ton; antimony ingots, 98 percent, to 99 percent. purity, Tls. 8.50 to Tls. 8.75 per picul; black iron sheets, Tls. 7 to Tls. 8.50 per picul; black iron wire, Tls. 9 to Tls. 14 per picul; galvanised iron wire Tls. 8.50 to Tls. 15 per picul; galvanised iron, corrugated sheets, Tls. 9 to Tls. 10.50 per picul; galvanised iron, plain sheets, Tls. 10 to Tls. 12 per picul; Mild steel squares, Tls. 4.50 to Tls. 7.50 per picul; mild steel angles, Tls. 4.50 to Tls. 6 per picul; mild steel plates, Tls. 4.50 to Tls. 6.50 per picul.

LONDON PRICES

London prices for the important lines are:—

Steel angles and steel joists £8.12. 6, ship plates £8.15, boiler plates £11.10, Sheffield steel billets (soft) £8, iron angles £10.15. iron crown bars £10.10, rails £9, standard copper £65⅝ spot and £66 future, electrolytic copper £72¼ spot and £72.10, tin £183⅛ spot and £184⅞, lead £35¼ spot and £34⅜ future, galvanised corrugated sheets £19¼ against £18.10 per ton, quicksilver £10.12.6 per bottle, pig iron 100s. against 94 per ton, tinplates 21-3 per box, zinc sheets £43 per ton for and Chinese wolfram 15-6 against 16s. In most of these there have been increases.

You Will Do a Better Day's Work!

—and you will feel fitter and fresher all day—if you begin the day with Sanatogen.

In these days of keen competition, the man who "wins through" is the man who does a better day's work than his competitors.

When you come to analyse it, the quantity and quality of the work you do depends, to a large extent, on the amount of nerve-energy you possess. It is nerve-energy that enables you to make the most of your brains, and supplies the "driving power" essential to success.

Now, Sanatogen definitely increases nerve-energy—does not merely stimulate or excite, but increases it to a remarkable degree. The result is that when you take Sanatogen you do more and better work than you have been been accustomed to do. Nor is this a temporary effect; it continues day by day, week by week.

Dr. Claude L. Wheeler says—

"The user of Sanatogen is richly rewarded in freedom from langour, a gain of strength and activity, alertness of mind, and an increased resisting-power to diseases"

Begin by Taking Sanatogen Regularly Every Morning with or After Breakfast

This will enable you to acquire that extra nerve-energy which spells success in every business and profession; which gives you a zest and a delight in your work; which makes you keen and concentrated, alert and self confident, and thus gives you the power to realise your ambitions.

Take the first step today, not tomorrow—now not presently. Sanatogen can be obtained of all Chemists and Dispensaries.

American Co-operation Essential

IMMEDIATE co-operation with Europe in regard to the inter-governmental debt question is suggested by Dr. Henry A. E. Chandler, economist of the National Bank of Commerce in New York. In support of his argument Dr. Chandler maintains that some of the principal debtors to the United States cannot now effect payments without assuming burdens that may perpetuate chaotic conditions in Europe. While he recognises that with the return to normal conditions several of the debtors ought to develop economic capacity to pay these debts, he believes that the very existence of them operates as an effective block to the readjustments in Europe necessary to the return to normal conditions.

"We may summarise the intergovernmental debt situation as follows," he says. "With regard to the economic capacity of the chief debtors to the United States it would appear that they will possess adequate capacity if something approaching their relative prewar productive and saving capacity can be re-established and maintained. However, we face such an extraordinary situation (for which we find nothing comparable in prewar history) that until more progress can be made in the solution of present European problems it will be impossible to know how fast Europe will return toward normal. The principal question arises, therefore, not as to the ultimate economic capacity but as to the time when the regular maintenance of this capacity will be assured.

"The capacity of the governments to finance the payment of these debts, however, is a much more uncertain problem. Their ability to pay depends upon so many future events, such as the final outcome to the German indemnity, the effect of future monetary readjustments, as well as political developments, that the question of the financial capacity of some of the chief debtors must remain very uncertain for a considerable time to come.

"We do know, however, that to pay these debts the governments of several countries must add great weight to the unprecedented burdens that they are now attempting to carry.

"We also know that the critical condition of the finances has caused tremendous economic losses since the close of the war and that it is not impossible that the attempt by the governments to carry too heavy financial burdens may in the future bring additional economic losses of great weight. Certainly the question of the time when normal growth will be resumed depends to some extent upon how soon balanced budgets, stable monetary conditions, normal exchanges etc., can be re-established. And these are now impeded by the very existence of the intergovernmental debt question. Moreover, the solution of this question in Europe, including the question of reparation payments, is impeded by the present status of the debts of the allied nations to the United States.

"In view of the complexity and uncertainty of the intergovernmental debt question, the United States may follow one of three courses:

"1. We may insist upon an arrangement requiring early resumption of interest payments and amortisation of the debts in twenty-five years. Thereby, we may contribute to the difficulty of the European nations that are now struggling against great odds in the effort to bring their finances and their credit as well as their business, political and social conditions, back to normal.

"2. We may let the matter drift indefinitely, and thereby passively contribute to the deadlock that exists in Europe.

"3. Or we may enter into effective co-operation with a view to adopting whatever policy promises to contribute most to a speedy recovery of Europe and thereby to a recovery of sound international trade conditions.

"Just how far co-operation with Europe should finally carry us we cannot know until we enter into active and joint consideration of the entire problem with others principally concerned. No fully informed person would suggest the cancellation of all or even part of these debts without effective assurance, on the part of European nations, as to other readjustments that are necessary to the solution of the European problem.

"But if all of the inter-allied debts could now be wiped out and with them a large part of the German indemnity it would undoubtedly solve many other European problems and add a tremendous stimulus to the recovery of normal conditions in Europe and in the rest of the world. Such a general cancellation, however, is clearly impracticable at this time.

"However, it is a far call from a policy of complete cancellation to one virtually requesting immediate assumption of payment of interest and the complete payment of these debts within twenty-five years. Many alternative plans lie within these two extremes.

"It is clear that we should not press for payment of these debts at this time. A postponement of the whole question for a period of at least five years in consideration of a similar postponement of other allied debts and of a large part of the indemnity payments appears to be the most practicable plan consistent with the European financial situation.

"We cannot decide upon our final course until we are at the general conference table where all of the factors indispensable to a solution can be taken up in their proper relation to each other.

"To any one who envisages the whole European situation, its relation to world trade and the undoubted economic interest that the United States has in the world situation, there ought to be no hesitation as to what we should do. We should enter into effective co-operation with Europe in regard to the entire intergovernmental debt question and we should do it at the earliest possible time."

There's Always A Chance

BY S. E. KISER

Don't be in too great a hurry
To decide that all is lost;
Do not be in haste to worry
Over what your pleasures cost;
Every minute spent in gladness
Means a pleasant minute gained;
Never go to meet the sadness
Circumstances have detained.

If the lady's inclination
Is to send you on your way,
Don't give up in desperation.
Women change their minds, they say;
She may hear that Frank or Freddy

Stick around, old kid; be ready
When she leads him to the door.

If the boss has put another
In the place you hoped to fill,
Don't engage in sulking, brother,
Prove your gameness bravely still.
Next week, or the week thereafter
You may land a lucky stroke
By emitting loudest laughter
When the boss has pulled a joke

Don't give up your hopes too quickly,
Nor sit down in dismal doubt;
Troubles may surround you thickly
But perhaps there's some way out;
Do not let them turn you gravely
From the triumphs you have planned;
Every hope you cling to bravely
Is a weapon in your hand.

OTHER DAYS

There comes a dream of other days;
And mystic longings fill my heart,
As on the shrouded Past I gaze
With olden joy my pulses start.

The plaintive murmur of the stream,
The holy whisners of the trees
I hear again, and in the dream
A voice is wafted on the breeze:

A cherished voice, like whispered song,
Calls back to me, and clear and low
Tells me that all the hours are long
Since from my side Love had to go.

The long-remembered twilight walks,
The ivy-trails with shadows nigh,
And, all unbidden, tender talks
Come softly from the hours gone by.

Oft call to me the days that were
Kind memory: 'mid Life's weary ways,
Oh, soothe me with your healing rare,
The precious dream of other days.

Our Good Intentions

BY DOROTHY DIX

"Hell is paved with good intentions," is a phrase that is often on our lips.

When we repeat the old adage we are thinking of the virtuous acts that we meant to do and never did. We are thinking of the cheering word we always meant to say to some struggler; of the visits we meant to pay to some lonely soul; of the love and appreciation we intended to give to some hungry heart; of the helping hand we planned to hold out, but never did.

God knows that there is so much of kindness, so much of tenderness, so much of helpfulness, that we might show our fellow creatures, and that we withhold from them; there is so much that we might give them that would glorify their lives, and that would cost us so little, that we never bestow upon them; there is so much good that we purpose to do, and never accomplish that it is no wonder that we say that hell is paved with the good deeds we meant to do, and never did.

Sins of omission, however, are never as wicked as sins of commission, and there is no greater tragedy than this, that we oftener pave hell for those about us with the good intentions that we carry into effect than we do with good intentions that remain merely vague plans. It is our mistakes, made in good faith, that are our bitterest curses.

The most poignant illustration of this we see in the way in which parents blight their children's lives by trying to shield them from what they think are dangerous temptations, or who steer their children back on the rocks trying to pilot them to harbors of safety.

Any one of us can tell a hundred stories of parents who would have died to save their children an hour's suffering, yet who, with the best intentions in the world, did their boys and girls a deadlier wrong than the malice of the bitterest enemy could have devised.

There is John, broken down, snabby, out-of-elbow, an utter failure, who has never been able to make a living, yet John had it in him to be a great artist. He was drawing pictures on the kitchen floor before he could walk. As a babe he babbled of beauty, and in ecstacy at every flaming sunset, while other boys played marbles.

But father had no opinion of artists. He regarded them as something between a tramp and a lunatic. He would never let John study art, or waste his time making pictures, but forced him into the grocery trade where a man had a chance to make real money.

And there is Mary, and Sally, and Susan, bright, clever and alert, capable of making places for themselves in the world, and of living full, independent lives. But mother and father think that a girl should go into society and have beaux, and that they should never leave their parents' home until they go to a home of their own. So the girls stick around, dissatisfied and miserable, with no adequate interest to fill their lives, until, at last, they marry to get away from home, or degenerate into miserable, sour old maids, instead of becoming happy, and prosperous girl bachelors, or finding their real mates in the outside world.

And there's Maud. Maud had a glorious voice, and her parents had it beautifully cultivated. She had dozens of flattering offers to go in opera, but her parents were violently opposed to the stage, which they regarded as the sink of iniquity. So Maud today is teaching grubby little children for a bare pittance instead of being a star of the Metropolitan.

And there's Gladys who loved a poor man of humble parentage. Mother and father couldn't think of letting her sacrifice herself by marrying beneath her, so they broke off the match, and married Gladys to a young chap who inherited a fortune, and went through it like a dog through a hoop. Gladys, a disgruntled, bitter woman, is now taking in boarders to support her children, while the poor boy, the only man she ever really loved, is a multimillionaire.

Truly, parents pave blocks and blocks of hell for their children with the best intentions.

Nagging is another illustration of the harm that is daily done with the best intentions. There is no other one thing in the world that kills love so effectually, that slays happiness so quickly, as nagging, and there is no other fault in the whole category of crime that we find it so hard to forgive.

Hatred, itself, could devise no other way so potent to torture us as nagging, yet the people who nag us to desperation are the people who love us most, and whose intentions towards us are the best.

It is the over-anxious wife, and mother, whose devotion obsesses her, who is forever warning us not to get our feet wet, not to go out in the rain, not to go out in the sun, not to eat whatever we happen to be eating, not to sit up too late, not to do anything and everything we want to do, or happen to be doing.

It is the man who never comes home from the office until he is compelled to and who dreads opening his front door as he would going into a torture chamber, the children who have never had one breath of freedom in their whole lives, who are the helpless victims of the nagging wife and mother, and she nags at them continually because she is so anxious for them to keep well, and be good and happy, and is trying so hard to do her duty by them.

Truly hell is paved with good intentions, going and coming.

Are You A 'Wet Blanket' Individual?

BY J. J. MUNDY

Don't be an enthusiasm killer.

When some member of your family waxes enthusiastic over some proposition he or she is going into, do not chide them for their optimism.

It is the really interested, enthusiastic person who wins out.

It is the man or the woman with clear vision who anticipates success and gets it.

If you had the foresight to visualise undertakings before they are completed you might be better off today.

Successful men visualise and figure far ahead in order to reach a coveted goal—they have to.

The man who handles goods for another to buy, must have a vision of what is going to please his trade and attract new trade.

To sell what he has purchased he must be enthusiastic about the goods and their uses, and be able to impart this enthusiasm to his sales force.

Enthusiasm is the life of business.

When you come in contact with enthusiastic, well-balanced persons, you would do well to imbibe their spirit. It will do you good.

When Light Stops Light, And Sound Sound

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
(Noted Astronomer And Writer On Subjects Of Scientific Interest)

"I too read your articles, and am surprised to find how many scientific facts are applicable to everyday affairs. I write to ask if light obstructs light. (1) Given a bundle of nearly parallel rays projected through air and arriving on a flat surface of light tint, would the interposition of a similar bundle intercepting the first at 90 degrees, have any effect on the first bundle? (2) Given a faint yellow-white that would affect photographic paper and a given time, would the addition of any number of red lights neutralise the effect of the first one?— P. C., Troy, N. Y."

Light does not obstruct light, but in certain conditions the light-waves interfere, and by such interference they may either reinforce, or weaken, or totally neutralise one another at a given point. The required conditions are not present in the experiments that you describe.

In order that interference be produced the waves must encounter at some point in different phases of vibration. Even when interference takes place the light-waves concerned are not destroyed but they continue on beyond the point of interference absolutely unaltered, although just at that point if they meet in precisely opposite phases their effect is rendered null and darkness results.

This curious phenomenon may be seen also in the case of sound-waves. Two tuning forks may be so placed that the distance between them, in the plane of their prongs, is just equal to the wave length of the sound that they emit. Then, if the ear is placed in the plane of the forks on one side or the other, the wave from the nearer fork will reach the ear in the same phase of vibration as that of the wave from the more distant fork, and the sound will be increased in volume by the combination of the waves.

So if the distance between the forks is two whole wave-lengths, or three, the effect will be the same. But if the distance is made only half a wave-length, then the sound from the farther fork will reach the ear in an opposite phase of vibration from that of the sound from the nearer fork, and they will neutralise one another, and there will be no sound.

Even the waves from the two prongs of the same fork neutralise one another along certain lines where they encounter in opposite phases. It is very instructive and amusing to observe this effect by turning a tuning-fork round and round while it is vibrating. The sound faints and disappears when the line joining the two prongs is at an angle of about 45 degrees to the plane of the eardrum. There the waves locally neutralise, though without destroying one another.

What happens to waves when they encounter in differing phases is very plainly shown when we transfer the experiment to the surface of water. There, if two or more series of small waves are set going, the multitudinous effects of the encountering of circular waves in many different phases of up-and-down vibration are seen by the interlacing lines and scrolls with which the surface is wonderfully marked, like chased silver.

In the case of light the waves are exceedingly minute, and the phenomena of interference are generally observed only in experiments like that by which Young first demonstrated the existence of interference of light. He passed a beam through a narrow horizontal slit in a screen and allowed it to fall upon a second screen pierced by two similar horizontal slits. These two slits then became the sources of two divergent trains of light waves which passed on to a third screen, but on their way partially intersected one another in such a manner that some of their waves met in the same phase and others in the opposite phase, the result being the appearance of a series of light and dark bands where the combined light fell on the third screen. Wherever the conditions of this experiment are satisfied interference of light will be produced.

In your second proposed experiment the introduction of the red light would not destroy the actinic properties of the yellow-white light. Red light, because of its lack of photographic effect is the protecting agent of the "dark room." It possesses illuminating power enough to enable the operator to see what he is about, but its rays have no chemical action on the sensitised film. Even if, by interference, it could neutralise the illumination of the other rays it probably would not prevent them from acting chemically on the plate, for the result of interference is not to destroy the energy of the encountering waves.

Freight Market

In their fortnightly report on the Freight market, Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows:

The position of the export trade to Europe and America remains unchanged and prospects for March are no brighter.

Coastwise.—Since last writing this market has been very dull, cargo has gradually fallen off owing to the near approach of China New Year and no improvement can be looked forward to until after the holidays.

Passengers Arrived

Per C. M. S.S. Hein Kiangtsen Ningpo: the Rt. Rev. Bishop H. J. Molony, Rec. J. S. Shoemaker, Dr. J. S. Grant, Messrs. C. H. Lavers, D. Durst, H. C. Edmund, F. C. Wilcox.

Per I-C. s.s. Loongwo from Hankow: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Gale, Mrs. Antonioff, Messrs. J. D. Carrie, C. McClay; from Wuhu: Mr. J. R. Poole.

Weather Report

Feb. 7.—High pressures all over the Continent. Low area with probably a low center moving NE ward, to the SE of the Loochoos. Regular winter monsoon along the China coast. Cloudy but rather fine and cold weather at most stations in China.

Feb. 8.—Cloudy and cold but fine weather. High and steady pressure. Northerly breezes.

Exchange Market

In their weekly report on the exchange market, Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows:

Exchange: Since our last circular the London price of silver has dropped 7/8d. for ready delivery and 9-16d. for forward to 30 3/4d. and 30 1/2d. for these deliveries respectively. The difference between "ready" and "two months forward" is now on a more normal basis. The buying for shipment to India, which appears to have been made in anticipation of the possibility of an import duty on silver into India being imposed, is in abeyance. We are inclined to think that the large imports of silver into India, being to a great extent on speculative account, are more likely to deter than influence the imposition of a duty, if indeed such a measure was ever contemplated by the Indian Government, who appear to have a full holding of silver against note issue.

Our official rate for T.T. on London after declining to 3-0d. was yesterday on a weak market raised to 3-0 1/2d. There is very little exchange business passing in connection with "Imports" and "Exports" and at the close the official rate is the best for cash delivery only, with a possible 3-0d. for March and 2-11 3/4d. June. We closed weak with more buyers than sellers.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 23,114,000 an increase of Tls. 774,000.
Chinese and Mexican Dollars $31,440,000 a decrease of $1,190,000.
Estimated value Tls. 45,750,000 as against Tls. 47,350,000 held at this time last year.

YORK TO WED APRIL 26

London, Feb. 7.—The wedding of the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bodes-Lyon has been fixed for April 26 at Westminster Abbey.

Coal Market

Messrs. Wheelock and Company, in their fortnightly report on the coal market, write as follows:

France Loses In Court Of Justice

(Reuter's Service)

The Hague, Feb. 7.—The Court of International Justice has delivered judgment in the dispute between the British and French Governments with regard to the French nationality decrees in Tunis and Morocco, which the Council of the League of Nations referred to it.

The Court decided against the French contention that the decrees were matters of purely domestic concern.

Note:—The dispute in question was referred to the League of Nations by Britain in August last. The British complained that the French had no right to impose French nationality on British subjects born in Tunis and Morocco, which were not French Dominions but merely protectorates.

Britain had frequently protested that British subjects of Maltese origin had been compelled to join the French Army.
